Weekly Inspirational Corner

(Sponsored by an Irma Times reader.)

Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, that ye should bring forth fruit and that your fruit should remain; that whatsoever ye ask the Father in my name, He may give it to you.

These things I command you that ye love one another.

If the world hate you remember that I have hated the world before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love you because ye were of the world and loved the world.

Trees—For Beauty and Shelter

To improve the appearance of the farmstead and add to the comfort of living there, good shelterbelts are invaluable. One drawback is that a good shelterbelt is not achieved in one year or without some work. But trees do grow fairly quickly and when you will eventually have the shelter you want depends to a great extent on when you get it started. Trees are available free of charge from the Provincial Nursery. Applications should be sent in as soon as possible to avoid disappointment. One of the stipulations is that long for trees must be summer-fallen for one year before planting. Get your application in now and start your summer-fallow strip so as to have a place ready for 1968. Application forms are available at my office, along with information on trees available, spacing, etc.

Plywood - Warning

Plywood has become one of our most common building materials in this country. Canadian manufacturers of plywood nearly all use water proof glue which means that this plywood can be used anywhere on a building. There are now some imported plywoods being sold in Canada which are for interior use only and the glue is not waterproof. As this type of plywood will tend to come apart if exposed to moisture it should not be used on the outside of buildings or in damp locations. Before buying plywood, if it is to be used where it might get wet, you should make sure that it is made with waterproof glue.

Weeds

A horrible subject, but that time is here again. It was not too long before you have to think about buying chemicals and putting out the sprayer again. You can save quite a lot on the cost of chemical if you spray while the weeds are small and the temperature high. In many cases fields are left too long before being sprayed. It is usually best to spray as soon as the grain is in the right stage. The good bulletin on chemical weed control at my office, pick up a copy and study it.

Home Economist Newsnotes

—Your District Home Economist,
Edna M. Craig

Hello Homemakers:

This week I have an announcement of interest for those of you with boys or girls between the ages of 13-18. It concerns the Vermilion Fair Summer Camp. FAIR CAMP will be held this year at the school of Agriculture from July 22-27. Those who wish to attend are urged to send in applications early as a large attendance is anticipated. Practical courses in household science for girls and agricultural subjects for the boys are given and entertainment features are being arranged. Those attending are guests of the Fair Board for the three days of the annual exhibition.

Applications will be accepted in the order in which they are received and preference is given to those who have not previously attended.

Applications and further information are available from my office in Wainwright or from Mr. S. C. Heckbert, Sec.-Mgr., Vermilion Agricultural Society, Vermilion.

It is a worthwhile educational and social experience for boys and girls.

These meetings already held have been well attended and Mr. Platt revealed that both the candidates and the audiences have been well satisfied with the arrangement. The FUA president described these meetings as a public service feature of Farm Union policy whereby rural people are given an opportunity to size up the candidates for whom they will be voting on June 10.

We believe, Mr. Platt continued, "that meetings of this type will do much to encourage the active interest of rural people in political matters."

HAS ANYONE LOST A RING?

A man's gold ring has turned up in one of the cleaning machines at the Alberta Wheat Pool terminal at Vancouver and W. Kennedy wonders if it has been lost by a Pool member. It was made in Europe, has the letters "D.P." inscribed inside and is believed to be over 100 years old. The owner may claim the ring by describing its width and the maker's "Hall Mark" and the number of cards stamped on it. If the ring belongs to you, write to: W. Kennedy, 465 Columbia Street East, West Westminster, B.C.

Journey to Hawaii

by Mrs. A. P. Firkus

Then in Arizona we started climbing to higher levels where we got into snow and the Grand Canyon, which was a wonderful sight after all the desert. Saw the Painted Desert and the cave-dweller homes. The Grand Canyon with the river in the bottom is really one of nature's wonders.

Then on to the Hoover Dam, Boulder City and Las Vegas and then through the Mojave Desert. Finally in the San Fernando Valley where we saw orange groves and olive groves. Travelling for miles northward to San Francisco we saw huge fields where they grow grapes mostly for wine.

After we arrived in San Francisco we were taken to the top of the Mark Hopkins hotel where you get a beautiful sight of Chinatown and Oakland Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge.

In San Francisco our relatives took us to the Sheraton Palace hotel for a luncheon and then we were transported to the "Lurline" ship. It was a very beautiful ship. The first two days I was for too long in the ship to enjoy myself but when I felt better we had a lot to enjoy. There were movies, games, dancing and card playing. In between times the ship's director taught Hawaiian dancing and those participating were given graduation certificates. The first two days but the last three were quite hot and everyone was out on deck and some were in the pool and sun bathing. The Commodore's dinner was a real treat. The last morning most everyone was up at five for a continental breakfast, those who wished could eat in the dining room, but nearly all were on deck for the first glimpses of the island and Maunaloa Light House which was the first thing visible just as it was getting daylight. As daylight came we saw Molokai, a large island, and several warships. Then around Diamond Head, on the island of Oahu and for our first glimpse of Hawaii which is called the greater boats, tug boats, catamarans and speed boats all came into the Lurline and a sight never to be forgotten once seen. Native boys came in the speed boats and dive for coins which passengers throw out to them. The official greeters came on board and we were presented with leis and the hula girls danced and sang for us. Had photographs taken. The hula introduction to the island held on Lurline arrival day to acquaint you with music, dances and costumes of Hawaii which is called the welcome to the "Malihini", new comers to the islands. Moving again towards the docks, where a large number of friends and neighbors were waiting. Along the walks of the docks were groups of hula girls dancing to Hawaiian music. The Hawaiian band was there to greet the arrival too. Spotted our relatives and there was a lot of hand waving. Then we landed and were taken to the Royal Hawaiian Hotel. In the evening we were to dress for a cocktail party and dinner given by the manager Mr. Firkus but no one could get due to a strike, no luggage. It finally arrived in time for bed.

We went to a hula show sponsored by Kodak. It is put on for camera fans so they can get good pictures. It featured Hawaiian, Tahitian and Samoan dancing. In the afternoon we were taken on a city tour which took us to quite a few interesting places, saw the large memorial cemetery where Ernie Pyle, the great correspondent and writer was buried and then on to Mt. Tantalus, the highest peak on the island of Oahu, where a good view is had of the island. Diamond Head and Pearl Harbor. Our evening meal was taken at a Hawaiian Luau. It is held in one of the most beautiful grounds of the Queen's Surf Hotel, with Japanese pools and bridges, coconut trees and the Pacific are lighted up for the luau. The luau (underground oven) is similar to our barbecue pits is open with rituals at 6:30 p.m. The feast of kalua pig, lea lea salmon, chicken with coconut milk and other traditional Hawaiian foods is served on long tables attractively decorated with lei flowers and pineapples. I enjoyed a lot of dishes which were all cooked in tea leaves but some of the best was the lea lea fish salad. We enjoyed the roast whole pig and the chicken.

Viking Hosp. Auxiliary Offer $200.00 Nursing Bursary

A recent meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Viking Municipal Hospital, it was decided to provide a bursary of $200.00 to assist a worthy student interested in entering a career of Professional Nursing. It was stipulated that the student must be a resident of the Viking Municipal Hospital District, possess the necessary qualifications, both academic and physical, to enter the nursing school of her choice and, in the opinion of the Selection Committee, merit the support of this bursary. Applications may be submitted either to the President of the Viking Hospital Auxiliary or through the principal of the students school.

It was also decided that the student upon finishing her training would not be required to return to the Viking Municipal Hospital District to nurse if she did not desire to do so, and it should be specially noted that this bursary will cover all who pay taxes into the Municipal Hospital District.

CANDID DATUM ON CIVIL DEFENCE

THE BEST WAY TO SURVIVE ATOMIC WARFARE IS NOT TO BE THERE WHEN THE BOMB FALLS.

EVACUATION from a target area, there will be practically no chance of survival for anyone living within five miles where a big atom bomb—equivalent to five to ten million tons of high explosive—strikes.

There will be very little chance of survival for anyone living within eight miles of the spot where an atomic weapon strikes.

People living from nine to 12 miles from the explosion might survive the blast itself if they were in shelters.

But nobody knows the exact point of explosion.

There is no defence — EXCEPT EVACUATION.

In a civil defence class.

If you live in a target city you are entitled to know what plans are being made for your safety. If you have been made, you are entitled to ask "WHY."

To The People of the Federal Constituency Battle River-Camrose

Regardless of what happens in the election on June 10, the Liberal party will have almost absolute control of one house of our Parliament.

Either a Liberal or Conservative victory in the House of Commons will find the Liberals with a very tight grip upon affairs in Parliament.

Depending on what happens in the election of Commons members, this control will vary from ability to bring about deadlock to virtual one-party government.

This is true because Canada's senators are appointed by the prime minister. Accordingly, the Liberal group in the Senate has grown steadily since 1935, until today there is an overwhelming majority of Liberals in the Senate. Liberal control of the Senate was illustrated nicely in 1956 when the Senate required only one day to pass the contentious pipe-line bill which had seen so many days of vigorous debate in the House of Commons.

Regardless of what happens on June 10 this part of Alberta will have representation in the Liberal party at Ottawa. One of the six senators for Alberta lives in this constituency and has long been connected with the work of the Liberal party in this province. This is true in spite of the fact that this part of Alberta has not elected a Liberal Commons member for many years. It is not necessary to elect a Liberal to the House of Commons in order to have a voice in Liberal party caucuses. We are already guaranteed a voice in the person of an appointed Liberal senator.

The Social Credit party has been in existence for many years in Alberta, and now forms the government in two provinces. No Social Credit senator has ever debated in the Senate. The CCF party has elected members at one time or another from nearly every part of Canada, and now forms the government in Saskatchewan. No CCF senator has ever debated in the Senate.

Conservatives cannot agree with many of the ideas held by these two parties. Nevertheless, we feel that it is neither democratic, fair nor wise to deny these parties Senate representation.

Conservatives believe that the Senate has an important part to play in our parliamentary system and that its importance will grow as the nation matures. Conservatives are pledged to reform the Senate, as a resolution to this effect was passed at the same national convention which elected John Diefenbaker as party leader.

You can give John Diefenbaker your support on June 10 by voting for CLU Smithwood, your Progressive-Conservative candidate.
